Every duty we omit obscures some truth we should have known.—Ruskin.

Work before Wages can be considered.

Should the Mayor have an automobile? If the service of the people can be promoted, yes. If not, no.

Land Commissioner Pratt as the last act of his official career could well afford to give the people the latest correspondence in the Kapaia land deal.

Honolulu should send out a special call for "Sunny Jim" Sherman, the Vice President of the United States, to lead the Congressional visitors this year.

It is again appropriate to call attention to the fact that while New York and the East sweaters in blistering, deadly heat, the fortunate people of Hawaii keep cool all the year round.

According to the lively words that have been exchanged on the floor of the United States Senate between Senators Aldrich and Beveridge, there is every prospect of a new national party being formed. Who can tell but President Taft saw it coming when he called Democrats to his cabinet?

This is the time when diplomatic representatives occupy their vacation periods with conferences with the officials at headquarters if there is important work on hand. The return of Ambassadors Takahira and O'Brien to improve the opportunity of the summer season undoubtedly means that important negotiations are under way regarding the open door in the Orient. There can be no possible connection between these conferences and the recent interesting events in Hawaii. Our little domestic scrimmage is largely a matter of differences among Japanese residents. The majority of them want to work and a few are banded together to prevent them, by fair means or foul, from doing so. In view of the probability of important work on hand in Tokyo and Washington, it is more than likely that the local agitators sprung their scheme at a most inopportune moment if they were at all disposed to serve the country to which they claim allegiance.

THE NEW TREASURER.

D. Lloyd Conkling, whom the Governor has selected as Territorial Treasurer, was for a number of years an efficient employee of the Bulletin. It is therefore impossible for the Bulletin to conclude that as Territorial Treasurer Mr. Conkling will do other than make good.

The appointment is a complete surprise.

This paper believes the community had reason to expect the selection of Mr. Pratt, whose experience and very general endorsement made him a logical candidate for the position in consequence of the office of Land Commissioner being eliminated on the first of July.

AUTO SCORCHING AND MANSLAUGHTER.

Too much publicity cannot be given to the remarks of Judge Mulqueen of New York City when sending William Darrach to seven years in State Prison for running down and killing a thirteen-year-old boy in the streets of New York City.

Darrach was indicted for murder in the first degree and after a long trial the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree. The account of the trial published in the New York papers indicated that the man was going so fast through the street that he had no control over his machine. The boy killed was playing "tag." After being struck by the machine he was dragged about a block before his useless and mutilated body dropped to the ground.

What Judge Mulqueen said applies to every driver of an automobile who sends it recklessly through a city street, well knowing that he is taking chances and placing in jeopardy the life of any person who may come unexpectedly in his path. "The automobile has come to stay," said the Judge. "Properly used, it is a source of healthful recreation. It is an important factor in business. It affords remunerative employment to many."

"But it is clear that its use is fraught with the gravest danger to the people. Therefore, all drivers and owners of these machines must be extremely careful. Recklessness and negligence will subject them to severe penalties. They must not seek their own pleasures or convenience at the risk of the public."

It was after the motion for a new trial had been denied that the Judge addressed remarks that should sink into the soul of persons who come under the head of automobile scorchers:

"It is the paramount duty of the State to protect the lives of our people."

"No new or obscure law has been invoked in this instance. The statute defining murder in the first degree is very old. It provides as follows: 'The killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, is murder in the first degree, when committed: By an act imminently dangerous to others, and evincing a depraved mind, regardless of human life, although without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual.'"

"It was urged by your counsel that you did not intend to kill your victim. But it is an elementary legal rule that a man's intent may be inferred from his acts."

"When you took your seat in that car, you were free to drive carefully or recklessly."

"You chose to go at a most reckless pace. And you knew that you bore a message of death for the unfortunate in your path."

"You knew that all the people had at least an equal right to our streets and roads."

"You cared more for your own pleasure than for the life of any other person."

"If any motive swayed the jury other than a sense of duty it was not a desire for revenge, but rather a spirit of mercy. Indeed, I am convinced that if you had been a rich man, or a dissolute man, the verdict would have been murder."

The legal proof of murder was overwhelming."

DR. GOODHUE WRITES OF BERGIN CONFERENCE

Editor Evening Bulletin: In your issue of June 15th, last, I notice a reference to the possibility of there not being a Territorial representative at the Bergin Conference on Leprosy, owing to the failure of our Legislature to appropriate the necessary money, and mention is made of Dr. Currie's appointment as representative of the U. S. Government. There is no connection whatever between Dr. Currie's appointment and my own. He goes to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Brinkerhoff, and is detailed by the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

Dr. Wise of Washington, goes to represent the U. S. Navy, and I was appointed as a third delegate by the President to represent the U. S., as a sort of "free lance," with orders to take up special matters before the Conference.

For this purpose I hold a special Commission which is now in my hands issued by the Department of State. Upon my acceptance, and with the understanding that I should bear my own expenses, Governor Frazier kindly asked me to represent Hawaii, to which I agreed, so that the Legislature was not asked to appropriate any money for my fares, and so far as I am concerned, was not expected to make any such appropriation.

Unforeseen demands upon my limited exchequer, and the difficulty of securing a satisfactory substitute for a field which barely pays living expenses, made it doubtful whether I could go when the time arrived, so last month, in order not to stand in the way of another appointment, I wrote the President and the Secretary of State, asking them to release me from my obligation.

Also, I stated that I should be pleased to have Dr. Clegg, of Manila, make a special representative in my place.

So far as representing the Territory is concerned, Dr. Currie could act as a delegate from Hawaii, and would do so probably at no expense to the Territory, if commissioned by the Governor. Or if, as you say, money to pay the expenses of a special Hawaiian delegate is available from the Contingent fund at the Governor's disposal, there are several physicians in Honolulu who might be charged with the business, all of them better qualified by training and experience than I am to assume this important and honorable office.

NO SUNDAY SALUTE HONORS IJCHI

Admiral Requested That Honor Be Omitted On Sabbath

Out of respect to Sunday, Admiral Ijchi, commanding the Japanese training squadron, yesterday declined the official salute as he was leaving the cruiser St. Louis.

Admiral Ijchi, accompanied by Captain Sato of the flagship Soya, and Captain Ishii of the Aso, and Flag Lieutenant Shimomura, yesterday returned the call of Captain Albert Gleaves, on board the St. Louis. When he was about to leave the cabin of Captain Gleaves, Admiral Ijchi asked the captain to waive the official salute to be fired in his honor.

Flag Lieutenant Shimomura, of Admiral Ijchi's staff, said this morning that the Admiral declined the honor because of Sunday.

Admiral Ijchi's cruisers, which were open for inspection yesterday afternoon, will be taken again. The public will not be permitted to visit the ships any more, in view of the arrangements which they are making for their homeward-bound journey, next Thursday. Those who have intimate friends on board the two cruisers, however, will be allowed to call on them during the stay of the ships in port.

Admiral Ijchi, Captains Sato and Ishii, and the Admiral's staff, will attend a banquet to be given tonight at the Commercial Club.

Tomorrow night, the two Japanese cruisers will be illuminated in honor of the Admiral's banquet to Governor Frazier and other prominent officials and citizens of Honolulu. The Admiral's band will play during the night.

Another banquet on board the flagship will be given next Wednesday night by Admiral Ijchi, in honor of Consul General Uyeno and prominent local Japanese merchants.

Next Thursday morning, Admiral Ijchi's ships will leave for Japan. They will proceed to Hakodate, a seaport in the northern part of Japan, on the island of Hokkaido. After a short stay there, they will cruise around the other island ports, terminating their cruise at the Yokosuka Naval dock, near Yokohama.

On arrival there, Flag Lieutenant Shimomura of Admiral Ijchi's staff, will probably leave the ship for a short vacation.

UNVEIL TABLET

The Daughters of Hawaii will hold an interesting ceremony at the Palisades tomorrow when they will unveil a tablet placed in the cliff to mark the historic spot where the great battle of Kamehameha was fought. The members will be present in large numbers, all wearing the yellow lei, the floral emblem of Hawaii. If the weather promises well, there will undoubtedly be quite an attendance of kamaaina from the toget.

SOCIAL NOTES

The beautiful Waikiki residence of Mr. William G. Irwin was on fire Friday evening, the occasion being a ball given in honor of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Ivers. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated by hundreds of electric lights enclosed in Chinese lanterns, quite putting out the soft radiance of the moon, which descended to peep down upon the animated scene. The grounds extend to the ocean, and there were little telescopic seats for confidential couples placed about the waves of the Pacific lapping the shore making a gentle accompaniment to the murmur of the voices.

Mr. Richard Ivers received the guests at the door and Mrs. Richard Ivers assisted Mr. Irwin in greeting all comers. He looked handsome in a white and silver tulle and was an admirable hostess. Mrs. Ivers, Sr., was most distinguished, her beautiful toilette of on the land, the guests being comfortable. The quiet club was on the land and a buffet near them seemed most popular throughout the evening. Tall palms and many flowers lent themselves artistically to the decorative scheme, and the supper was served on the alms, the guests being comfortably seated at little tables. This was a pleasant interlude and many healthful were drunk in champagne, which flowed like water. Mrs. Irwin was not forgotten, but often spoken of, her gracious presence and charming personality being much missed. After supper the dancing continued until a late hour, the barn dance being a popular number. Among those present were Admiral Ijchi of the Japanese cruisers, accompanied by Captain Sato and Captain Oshi. Princess Kawahana, Major and Mrs. Dunning, U. S. A., Governor and Mrs. Frazier, former Governor and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mott-Smith, British Consul and Mrs. Ralph Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. C. One of the most enjoyable dances of the season was held at the Waikiki Inn on Thursday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bergin celebrated the third anniversary of their marriage. The ball room was just nicely filled by the dancers, of whom there were some twenty couples. The decorations were very pretty and consisted of flags, ferns and pot plants. The music was of the best, and as the floor was in excellent condition the dreamy waltz and lively two-step were enjoyed to the utmost. There were some very pretty dresses worn by the ladies, and the whole scene was an animated one. Mrs. Bergin proved to be an ideal hostess and busied herself the whole evening in helping people to enjoy themselves. Light refreshments were served during the evening, and when the last dance was finished cheers were given for Mr. and Mrs. Bergin, and many wishes of long and happy lives offered them.

Mrs. Mary Shigum, who is a guest of Mrs. Lorrin Thurston of Bates street, had been extensively entertained during her visit here. She has hosts of friends who are vying with each other in the number of their entertainments, and on Monday Mrs. Charles Lewis gave an elaborate luncheon for her and Mrs. McGee. The hosts of a luncheon in her honor, Mrs. Lorrin Thurston's "at home" on Friday was an unusually charming affair, the guests of honor, Mrs. Shigum, being handsomely dressed in a blue gown. The house was filled with flowers and the little tables on the final were gorgeous. All the afternoon.

A polo luncheon was given by Mr. Charles Chillingworth on Wednesday, the decorations of the luncheon spread table being in crimson and white, and the table being artistically decorated. HELENE WINS YACHT RACE BY FIVE SECONDS.

The Beckley cup was won by the Helene after a very pretty race which took place yesterday. The Gladys, as usual, made a bold bid for victory, but could not quite get up in time to win.

There were five starters, viz., Helene, Charlotte C., Gladys, Kamehameha, and Hawaii I, and they finished in that order. The Helene won by the narrow margin of five seconds and it appeared as if the Gladys should have been the first to cross the line.

The five yachts were close together at the start, and all crossed the line within a few seconds of one another. The run down to Diamond Head was made in fast time, and the yachts presented a very pretty sight as they passed Waikiki, where a lot of people had congregated to watch the race.

The finishing times were as follows:

Yacht	Time
Helene	3:59:05
Charlotte C.	4:05:02
Gladys	4:19:19
Kamehameha	4:29:45
Hawaii I	4:35:00

The schedule for the Oahu Baseball League is out and is a very attractive one. There are four teams in the league, and they are as follows: Ashi B. C., P. A. C., Mubock and C. A. C. This sterling bunch of players should make a splash on the new grounds.

The School street baseball team defeated the employees of the New King Company yesterday by a score of 24 to 18.
